My name is Bing
Yujie, I miss my dog so much!

I am Qing Xiao

- Bing Yujie(冰玉洁). She misses Qing fiercely.
- Qing Xiao(清霄). Bing's loyal dog. Died in an incident.
- Along with navigating through a maze of obstacles, Bing endeavors to recollect her memory shards.
- Aggregate all the shards together. Recollect all the memory. Forever, Qing's loyal companion will stay alive.

The basic idea of this game is to overcome obstacles on the road by observing and thinking carefully, you should figure out which items to collect and how to use them at the proper time. You can follow the instructions from tips (such as tips from the boards or the leaves) to gain a normal playing experience, you also can try to solve a level as fast as you can by finding some "shortcut".

Winter:

Tutorial level. Jump height and speed may decrease. At the "Beginning of Winter", you'll learn how to pick up keys and use them to open treasure boxes. In "Light Snow", you can choose which item to carry with you. In "Heavy Snow", you might learn how to use hook rope. "Winter Solstice" introduces the solar term buffs.

Autumn:

Move speed may decrease. Players can pick up a special leaf and get tips from it. Collect falling leaves for later use in the "Beginning of Autumn". Read the tips on the leaves, and get the potion and a key at the "End of Heat". Use a scythe to collect ripe crops, and then use it to disperse Taotie.

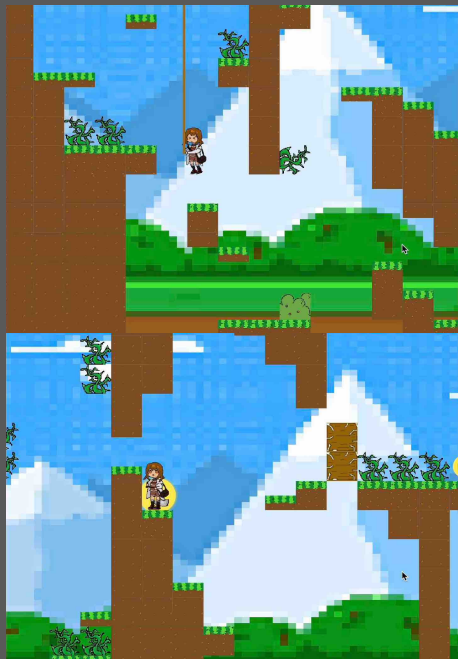

Summer:

A obviously harder level compared to the former two. In this level the great amount of deadly coral reefs will be the main obstacles. Start from the bottom of the sea towards the upper world in the "Beginning of Summer". "Summer Solstice" is the core of the vortex. If accidentally bumped into the coral reefs, don't be discouraged, and wait till revival to have another try.

Spring:

The final level will be a great adventure, which features an extra large map, where there might exist multiple routes to the destination. While some paths need more precise control of movements, hidden surprises await you between the dangers and don't hesitate to go back when you think the terrain looks curious. Also, the Taotie will reappear in this level to give you a little hint, helping you to find the second ending.

Creator goals:
